PROfessional and personal empowerment in social FARMing

THEMATIC HANDOUT #8

PROFARM

results in the Netherlands

ProFarm has contributed to the improvement of good practices in the way that the amount of organizations that are aware of ProFarm, have increased. Although it's still a challenge to improve this even more, especially on local, regional en national government levels.

The ProFarm project has contributed by developing an excellent matrix to select students for the ProFarm pilot. This matrix is very suitable to compare cases with the rubrics of the matrix. It paves the way at the start of customized learning pathways for the student.

Profarm can be seen as an opportunity without a clear goal / outcome in mind. The personal development of the youngster is the most important aspect.

Another relevant statement is the environment of the social farm. Working with animals or plants in a natural environment supports the youngsters to do their work and study with less or without stress.
