3rd National Care Farm Conference
Care Farming – Working Partnerships

16th September 2010

at

Harper Adams University College, Shropshire

9.30am – 4.30pm

Organised by the

National Care Farming Initiative

Who we are

Since its beginnings in 2005 the NCFI has organised two successful national conferences and given care farming a strong voice under the NCFI banner. It conducted the first scoping study concerning care farming in the UK and enabled a strong network of practitioners to evolve, and now operates a major information website. Case studies and resources to assist potential care farmers and commissioners have been developed and the NCFI has run open days, workshops and seminars all around the UK and lobbied government and departments to understand the potential of care farming.

CONFERENCE

In September 2010 the 3rd national care farming conference will take place. This event will examine some of the practical issues facing care farmers and look at the next steps forward in the evolution of an organisation to support the movement across the UK.

Key issues to be discussed include:

- UK developments in care farming and the NCFI
- Regional experiences
- The experiences of new and existing care farmers
- Presentations from a commissioning perspective

Keynote speakers will include commissioners and care farming practitioners.

You will also have the opportunity to network and meet care farmers and others involved in care farming.
